

About The East West game, I wish you would be there when the tickets are received from the printer. You should have a copy of the invoice, and see who they are given to. It is the only way to really check on them. This will probably mean an extra trip to Chicago, as I guess this will be done a month or so before the game, but it will be worth it. The East should have a better check up on the game than they have had up to now.
